Big Gathering At Stables

TWO PONIES WITHDRAWN

The draw for the new batch of 17 Australian 1937 Subscription ponies took place yesterday evening at the Jockey Club Stables before a large gathering of race fans, among whom were members of the Stewards Board, Mr. M. T. Johnson, Chairman of the Stewards, assisted by Mr. P. Tester, Mr. S. A. Sleep and Mr. D. L. Prophet.

Mrs. Newell, wife of Comdr. F. P. Newell, and Mrs. F. C. Hall, drew the stables and the numbers of the ponies respectively, the ponies being paraded round after they had been drawn for.

Two ponies were withdrawn before the commencement, Nos. 19 and 21, which were reported not to have passed the Vet.

PUI-CHING COMPLETE THEIR CARD

U.S. Ships Excluded From League

UMPIRE'S DECISION MUST BE OBEYED

(By "INFIELD")

The sudden decision of the Baseball League to exclude U.S.S. Tusla and U.S.S. Mindanao from the League fixtures owing to their inability to fulfil their programme has resulted in Pui-Ching and the Overseas Chinese being left to fight out the championship. Pui-Ching could have made sure of the honour last Saturday, but were surprised by the reinforced American team and were beaten, though they kept in the race by narrowly defeating the Volunteers the next day.

Pui-Ching have now completed their fixtures, winning 80 per cent. of their matches, while the Overseas Chinese, who have still to play the Volunteers, Americans and Eastern will, if they win all these games, be on level terms, thus making a play-off necessary.

Umpire's Decision Final
Last Saturday's game between Pui-Ching and the Americans resulted in several interruptions owing to disputes over the umpire's decisions. While there is some justification in appealing to an umpire on a point in the rules, (Continued on Page 3)

DISAPPOINTING FINAL

RECREIO PAIR DOGGED BY BAD LUCK

SILVA USES WRONG BIAS

(By "Referee")

VERY poor bowling at the start, but improving towards the end, featured the Final of the Colony Lawn Bowls Pairs Championship, which was played before a handful of spectators on the Civil Service Cricket Club green last evening and which resulted in a 19-12 win for R. Duncan and S. Randle (Kowloon Bowling Green) over J. E. Noronha and F. X. M. da Silva (Club de Recreio).

It might have been due to the fact that the green was rendered exceptionally heavy by the torrential rain earlier in the week, but to begin with none of the players were "up," and I am not exaggerating when I say that it took them easily the best part of 10 heads to find their length.

Once they did this, however, the standard of bowls improved considerably, and there were one or two ends which gave one the impression that one was watching a Final. In this connection the 13th and 14th heads were outstanding, and it was during these two ends that Noronha showed a glimpse of his true form, but he was dead out of luck, for, though he laid two beautiful woods in each one of those heads, Randle spoiled his shots on both occasions to steal the counter.

There was nothing exceptionally outstanding in the first dozen heads, when the K.B.G.C. pair were always holding a slight advantage. The best the Recreio couple could do was to draw level at 9-all on the 12th head, but after that they were held well in check for six successive ends, during which time Randle and his partner doubled their total.

H.K. RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Since it was formed in June, last year, the Hong Kong Rifle Association has had an encouraging growth, as the membership grew in the first nine months to over 300, making it even at that early stage of its history the largest Rifle Association in the British Empire. An indication of the Association's expansion is the new clubhouse which, it is hoped, will be ready for occupation in a few months. The plans have already been prepared and approved.

The Olympic Hammer-Throwing event resulted in a double triumph for Germany, Hein of Hamburg, seen in centre, winning the Gold Medal, with Blas Koenigsberg, also of Germany, left, second, Wargard (Sweden), foreground, was third.

BIG TENNIS PROBLEM

WOMEN JUST HALF AS GOOD AS MAN STARS

"Bunny" Austin And Miss Round Meet

CHAMPION WHO DONNED
A SKIRT

(By "LEIGHTON")
London, July 12.

Bunny Austin and Dorothy Round played a singles match at Newcastle last week.

The idea was to see how near the game of a front rank woman compared to that of a front rank man.

The conditions were Austin owed thirty; Dorothy received fifteen. Austin had to gain six points to win a game; Dorothy had to win three.

The result was one set all. Dorothy won the first at 7-5 and Austin the second at 8-6.

Conclusion.—First-class woman is just half as good as first-class man.

Reason.—Woman's play is less forceful, less speedy, weaker in service, less sure on the volley. In fact, in tennis, as in cricket, football, running, swimming, boxing, women must yield to men.

Tilden vs. Suzanne

In the only set they ever played, Tilden beat Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen 6-0. Her father was gratified because every game went to deuce. This was Tilden's ruse for proving that he could concede Suzanne supreme in her own realm, as much as three points in every game and yet win a love set. R. F. Doherty used to give and owe 30 to Mrs. Lambert Chambers, then the best woman player in the country, and also agreed not to volley. These odds were never beyond his power.

Won His Bet

Another ex-champion, Ernest Renshaw, when told in earlier days that a woman's skirt must necessarily restrict her activities agreed to don a skirt, and then wagered that he could give a first-class woman player just the same handicap. He won his bet.

Miss Ryan was one of the most successful women players against the second-class man; on more than one occasion she won Lord Charles Hope's cup for a mixed singles competition under handicap at Cannes.

Many of her male opponents could not handle her heavy chop. They even preferred Mlle. Lenglen's more orthodox strokes, though the French player never lost more than four games to Miss Ryan in any match they ever played on the Riviera.

Pte. Taylor, above, came second in the Hong Kong Area Inter-Unit Half mile swimming championship this morning.

SUCCESSFUL AQUATIC GALA HELD BY R.A.O.C.A.

Keen Competition Featured

GOOD ORGANISATION FEATURED

A very pleasant function took place in the European Y.M.C.A. Swimming Pool yesterday evening, when the Royal Army Ordnance Corps and Old Comrades Association held their annual swimming gala open to present and past members, the aquatic programme being a great success.

Although the standard of swimming was not very good, the races were keenly contested and, what was more important, the participants enjoyed themselves and swam for the sake of the sport.

A notable feature of the gala was the clock-like precision with which the programme was carried through, competitors for the next event being ready to take their places at the start as soon as the previous event had concluded.

Following the gala, tea and coffee and cakes were served in the West Lounge where Mrs. King, wife of Colonel J. F. King, Commanding the Ordnance Corps in the Colony, presented the prizes.

Fine Chinese All-Rounder

FUNG KWOK-WA, who is one of the finest track and field stars produced in South China, at one time held every known title in Hong Kong.

A fine all-rounder, he is also known on the turf as a notice jockey, although at present he is in charge of the Chinese Bathing Club's Swimming Section.

Born in Hong Kong in 1910, he was educated at the Wah Yan College, where he won their individual track and field championship for three years in succession. He represented Hong Kong in the China National Games in Nanking in 1933, and was placed first in the 100, 200, 400 and 800 Metres events, a feat which is without parallel. Fung, however, equalled this performance at the Kwangtung Provincial Meeting held in Canton in 1933.

He won the Open Half-Mile championship at the Hong Kong University sports in 1926, 1928 and 1929.

As a swimmer his prowess is well-known. Although he never took up speed swimming seriously, he is undoubtedly one of the leading Chinese pivots at water-polo.

He first played for the Chinese Bathing Club in 1925, then the Chinese Athletic Association, and later transferred his affections to the Young Companions' Association, which flourished for a season or two before disbanding.

Fung Kwok-wa was also no mean exponent at basketball, representing the Chinese Y.M.C.A. in several winning League teams. He played soccer for the Athletic in the Second Division as a forward, but gave the game up after two seasons in order to devote his time to water-polo, which he found more exciting and strenuous.

DIAMOND GOSSIP

local baseballers should remember that an umpire's decision must be final as in all other sports.

Earlier in the season I stressed the necessity for the framing of rules by which means the League would be properly controlled, but nothing has been done.

Only one rule was brought in—the registration of players. But this rule has served no really useful purpose.

Rules Necessary

While it is most desirable that the League should be governed more by the spirit of the game than by the rules, the latter are absolutely necessary for the smooth running of any competition as they enable clubs to know exactly what they are permitted to do.

It is to be hoped that the lessons learned this year will result in the League being organised on a better footing next season.

The match at Causeway Bay, which was destroyed by last Monday's typhoon, is not to be re-erected as there is only a fortnight before the end of the season. Next Saturday the Volunteers will play the Japanese in their return encounter, and this game will be followed by an encounter between the Americans and Eastern.

On Sunday an excellent game should be witnessed when the Volunteers play the Americans.

A Challenge To The Medical Services

A somewhat disquieting state of affairs was disclosed in an article published in last week's edition of the Sunday Herald, which recounted the fact that there are apparently a number of lepers mixing more or less freely with the general community in the Colony. The article referred to the alleged presence, near the A.P.C. installation in Kowloon, of a regular "colony" of these unfortunate. The paper's information stated that he knew of two or three establishments in which lepers were accommodated; that these people stayed indoors during the daytime and only emerged at night; and that among them were one or two "personable young women"— the obvious implication being that there was a grave danger arising from possible solicitation and its inevitable consequences. When Dr. D. J.
Valentine, Director of Medical and Sanitary Services, was interviewed with reference to this report by a representative of the paper concerned, he stated that there were quite a number of lepers "knocking about" the Colony, but that they were no danger to the community.
Dr. Valentine continued, in the course of the interview, to describe the system in use in Hong Kong for dealing with this subject. "Whenever a leper is found in the street by the police, he or she is taken to the hospital and examined by a doctor who certifies if there is any leprosy present.
If it is so, and if it is an advanced case, the patient is sent to the Leper Hospital at Kennedy Town, but if the dread disease is found to be in its early stages, the patient is given a card to the hospital, where he is treated as an out-patient."

It seems to us that this matter of the free intercourse of lepers with the general community, which the system of out-patients obviously enshrines, is a matter of vital importance. We have the authority of the Encyclopaedia Britannica for stating that "there is no doubt that human beings are inoculable with leprosy, and that the disease may be communicated by close contact. Cases have been recorded which prove it conclusively; for instance, that of a man who had never been out of the British islands, but developed leprosy after sharing for a time the bed and clothes of his brother, who had contracted the disease in the West Indies." The article continues:
"With regard to prevention, the isolation of patients is obviously desirable, especially in the later stages, when open sores may disseminate the bacilli... scrupulous cleanliness should be exercised by persons attending on lepers or brought into close contact with them." It is difficult to see how the system outlined by Dr. Valentine can possibly be upheld in any circumstances. Firstly, the only—or at least the main—system of identification of lepers seems to depend on their being "found in the street by the police," and it is no doubt true to say that for every leper so found and therefore subjected to treatment, literally hundreds must go undiscovered. Secondly, the practice of treating lepers as ordinary out-patients, placing no restrictions whatsoever on their daily contact with members of their families, the general public in the streets, on trams, buses, ferries, in crowded places like

COLONY RECOVERS FROM BLOW

TYPHOON DAMAGE
RIGHTED
MORE BODIES FOUND

While the Colony has now almost recovered from the shock of the typhoon which struck us in the early hours of Monday, the work of recovering dead bodies and putting things in order continues unabated.

Sixteen bodies of people drowned in the typhoon have been recovered since Monday in the Colony, but in Macau the total loss of life is not yet known.
Macau, however, is less damaged than was at first feared. Bias Bay junks, however, have been heavy sufferers. The bodies recovered include those of men, women and children, one male child of about 3 months old being among them, and two other children aged about 5 and 10. Most of the bodies are as yet unidentified.

While signs of the storm have almost disappeared in the vicinity of Victoria and Kowloon, there are still scenes of devastation in many parts of the outlying districts, and the New Territories have suffered severely, extensive damage being done along the Castle Peak Road and in the Shing Mun district.

MOTHER AND BABY

A poignant feature was the discovery of the body of a young woman at Alderich Bay, near Taikoo, with a three-year-old baby strapped to her back. Both were dead.

The body of another of the missing persons in the nullah tragedy has been found. It was that of Ho Shu-ming, aged about 20 years, who had been reported missing by the Upper Levels Police Station. The body was found in the harbour yesterday.

THE SUNNING'S CARGO

Work was commenced yesterday afternoon on the task of salvaging cargo from the China Navigation Company's s.s. Sunning, now lying a total wreck at Junk Bay.

Cargo is being removed from the Nos. 3 and 4 after holds, and, with the favourable weather prevailing, there are hopes of recovering a considerable quantity.

VERANDAHS COLLAPSE

With a deafening crash the verandahs of the first and second floors of No. 226 Des Voeux Road West collapsed about 8.15 p.m. yesterday, and fears were entertained for the safety of two foks of a money-changer's shop on the ground floor, who were thought to have been buried underneath the debris.

Police from the West Point Station and the Fire Brigade were soon on the scene, and commenced a search of the debris, but after two hours' arduous work, no bodies were found. In the meantime the two foks of the shop returned, stating they had been out for a walk.

cinema and theatre halls, is surely open to grave objection. Finally, why is no really large-scale, adequate segregation accorded to these unfortunates in this Colony, in company with every other civilised place in the world which has a leper problem? What are the facilities at the Leper Hospital at Kennedy Town? Does it, in fact, deal simply with treatment of the disease, or is it possible for lepers to be segregated there, apart from the general community, in anything like an adequate ratio of the numbers of people suffering from this disease to the generally healthy community?
Are any real steps taken by the medical authorities concerned to round up lepers, other than dependence on their being "found in the street by the police?" Is it or is it not a fact that a leper "colony" exists in Kowloon near the A.P.C. installation, and has any move been made by the authorities to verify the information; and if not, why not? These are all questions which must be answered, and the problem simply must be tackled if the grave disquiet felt by the general community at these reports is to be allayed. We express the opinion most emphatically that a general statement dealing with the questions asked above should be issued immediately.

MOST AMAZING SPORT IN THE WORLD
MODERN AIRWOMAN'S OPINION OF GLIDING

(By Rhona Churchill)

OF all sports, the one requiring the greatest courage, skill and presence of mind is gliding; or so I imagined until I met Joan Meakin, the British glider girl. I refused to believe that anyone with the smallest desire to remain alive could sail peacefully amongst the clouds, with nothing but his own skill to prevent him and his fragile machine losing height and hurtling to earth and certain death. A glider must be a super-man—a man with no nerves; a girl glider must, surely, be a freak of nature—or so I thought until I met Joan Meakin.

But let us look at the following scene: it is winter in the Tyrol. A slim young girl, clad in a navy-and-white ski-suit, stands at the top of the Nursery Slope and pushes gingerly off, down the incline.

"Oh dear! I'm going to fall, I know I am," she cries suddenly. And she promptly collapses and is lost from sight under a heap of Tyrolean snow.

"I'm just terrified of skiing," she confides to the young man who hastens to extricate her.
"You go faster and faster.
Nothing to stop you. Every time I stand at the top of a hill and push off I know my last hour has come. It's ghastly.
Let's go and have some coffee."

Speed Scars Her

And they do.
That is Joan Meakin, now Mrs. Ronald Price, dare-devil of the air, who spends each summer doing engineless aerobatics in a glider; the only woman to attempt such feats. And yet speed scares her.

"I don't know what it is," Joan said to me. "In the air, speed is quite a different thing.
You can travel in an aeroplane at 100 m.p.h. or more, without knowing you are flying at speed. It is contact with the ground that makes speed frightening."

"But some nerve must be needed to loop the loop in an engineless machine," I said.

"Oh, no," she assured me.
"Gliding is quite different. It is the most wonderful sport in the world. I've tried most sports, so I ought to know.
There is nothing more exhilarating than swishing silently through the air following the air currents and soaring higher and higher, and all the time with no sound of an engine to spoil the beauty of it."

Only "Fun!"
Joan Meakin will not agree that looping in a glider is dangerous, or even requires courage. She sums it all up in the word "fun."

This young airwoman is the most versatile and accomplished glider pilot in Great Britain, yet there is nothing masculine in her make-up. She is slim, 5 ft. 6 in., has short, red, wavy hair, looks well dressed in day clothes and beautiful in the simplest of evening dresses.
If you offer her a cigarette, she will say, "No thank you," and she doesn't drink. But she is the life and soul of any party.

Joan's gliding career began more by accident than by design. She was touring Germany with a friend in a sports car, when they chanced to hear of a gliding display being given a few miles away in the mountains. They hurried there and were in time to see the huge, motorless planes being cata-pulted off the hillside, rising, zig-zagging, and making their way towards the oncoming clouds, to turn and sail on the wings of the approaching storm.

One afternoon of watching was enough for Joan, and the same evening she signed on for a course of instruction. So, for the next few weeks she found herself living in a rough school building, and, for approximately two shillings a day, sharing frugal meals, mostly consisting of sausages, potatoes and black bread, with fifty German students.

BOATS AND SHIPS

BY the popular usage the word "boat" has come to mean any craft afloat, but the term is used incorrectly. In the strictest sense, "boat" refers only to small craft such as a rowboat, lifeboat, launch, etc. propelled by oars. In the course of time, both popularly and legally, the term "ship" has acquired a wide interpretation. Broadly stated, for purposes of international maritime law and by the Merchants' Shipping Acts of Great Britain (1854, 1894, and 1906) the term "ship" includes every description of vessel used in navigation not propelled by oars.

HEROIN PILLS FACTORY

Manufacture On Large Scale

MEN FOUND GUILTY AT CRIMINAL SESSIONS

The manufacture of heroin pills on an exceptionally large scale was revealed at the Criminal Sessions this morning when Wu Kong, Ng Shiu and Lam Sit were charged before His Honour the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, with the possession of a quantity of the drug at No. 4, Ning Yeung Terrace, ground floor, on April 7, last.

Mr. M. J. Abbott, Assistant Crown Solicitor, appeared for the prosecution, while Mr. Hin-shing Lo, instructed by Mr. M. A. da Silva, was for the defence. The following jury was empanelled:—Messrs. T. F. Bradford (foreman), Yung King-pau, C. L. Gregory, A. L. Langberg, G. W. Chan, Sum Chi-chung and E. M. Sahmet.

In his outline of the case Mr. Abbott said that 15 ozs. of crude heroin, lumps of pink paste for making the pills and 155,900 finished pills formed the basis of the charge. On the date in question, Revenue Officer A. W. Grimmit, together with some other officers, went to the premises where, on ringing the bell at the front door, Mr. Grimmit saw an old woman looking out of a window; he thereupon told her that he was the opium inspector. The third accused also looked out of the window, and after a time the old woman came to the front door and opened it.

Man Runs Away
When he went into the flat Mr. Grimmit saw the third accused running away through the passage to the back entrance. He then chased the man and caught him in the back street and brought the man back to the flat, where he saw another three men. On going into a rear room he saw the complete paraphernalia of an exceptionally large heroin factory.

The men and the heroin were taken to the Imports and Exports Office, and the drug was kept under lock and key and the men taken to the Police Station, where they were charged.

Mr. H. A. Taylor, Government Analyst, said in evidence that he examined the drug and found that the 15 ozs. of crude heroin was sufficient to make 500,000 pills, in addition to which there were two lots of pills—one of 155,900 and the other of 18,000, making a total of about 674,000 pills.

Revenue Officer Grimmit and other formal witnesses were called for the prosecution, after which Mr. Abbott closed his case.

Accused's Evidence

The second accused said that he had been on the premises for only two days prior to his arrest and he went there on the introduction of a friend to work for Cheung Shiu-pang. He swept the floor and cleaned the place generally but on the morning of his arrest he helped in making some "red" pills, though he did not know they contained heroin.

The third accused, Lam Sit, said he was in the flat because he had come down from Kowloon on being promised employment as a cook there. He had nothing to do with the drug and he ran away when the inspector came because someone had shouted at the time that "you, who are not implicated with this, had better go off, as the inspector is here."

Verdict Of Guilty

The jury, without retiring, returned a verdict of guilty.

His Lordship, however, intimated that he would defer sentence until all the drug cases were over. Wu Kong, the first defendant, who pleaded guilty at the outset of the proceedings, was found to have a record against him in that he was charged with the possession of heroin in March 1935, but he never appeared before the Magistrate, jumping his bail.

Mr. A. M. Braga, of No. 10, Kuntford Terrace, was the complainant in a case at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday when Cheung Hung, aged 27, latter was charged with the larceny of fixtures valued at over $85 from Mr. Braga's house. Defendant was sentenced to five months' imprisonment.

The Annual Dinner of the Royal Engineers Old Comrades Association is being held at the Peninsula Hotel on October 24 next. Will all members and ex-R. E. wishing to attend please communicate with the Chairman, Dinner Committee, R.E.O.C.A., Surveyor of Works Office, Command Headquarters, Hong Kong.

Mohat Khan, an Indian, appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy this morning charged with vagrancy and was committed to the House of Detention. Detective-Sergeant Longlin said that the defendant had been released from the House of Detention and was returning to India by the s.s. Talma, but the ship was delayed by the typhoon, so that the defendant had to wait for another boat.

Chan Tam-lun, a substitute coolie at Lyemun Barracks, who was yesterday charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy with the theft of articles of clothing from Bombardier Bell and with receiving two pairs of shorts and a singlet, the property of Bombardier MacKrell, appeared on remand this morning and was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment on both charges.

The P. and O. s.s. Kaiser-i-Hind is expected here from Shanghai at about 6 a.m. to-morrow.

DANCING ACADEMY DISPUTE

CLAIM AGAINST PARTNER

RIVALRY IN TRADE ALLEGED

"It is the case for the plaintiff that not only are we suing on an isolated case of breach of contract, but that there is no question of justification in such an action. It is purely the question of a rival ballroom, the Emporium Ballroom, attempting in every way to undermine the business of the plaintiff whenever the plaintiff brings down dancing partners from Shanghai, which is a costly business. It is the purpose of the Emporium Ballroom in every way to entice them away, either by promises of better hours or better remuneration."

"The action is being brought to curb this practice of the Emporium Ballroom and also to recover damages for breach of contract," said Mr. M. A. da Silva, before Mr. Justice J. J. Hayden at the Summary Court this morning, when he appeared for Mr. Frank Gray, trading as the New Majestic Dancing Academy, in an action in which he sought to recover the sum of $621.05 from Lau Mei Kuen, a dancing partner, for alleged breach of contract.

Mr. G. S. Ford of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, was for the defence.

Contracts In Shanghai

In his outline of the case, Mr. Silva explained that these partners, engaged in Shanghai, were engaged here on contracts, and one of the stipulations was that should any of them leave the services of the New Majestic Dancing Academy, they would not work for any other similar establishment in Hong Kong until one year had expired from the date of the termination of such service.

Mr. Silva then called Mr. Charles Gray, manager of the Majestic Dancing Academy, and witness corroborated Mr. Silva's outline, in addition to elaborating the practice followed whenever any partners were engaged in the Northern port.

Contracts Signed

He said that they were all made to sign the contracts before leaving Shanghai and on arrival here the contracts were re-interpreted and re-explained to them. His sister-in-law, Chow Ying Fei, said witness was usually the interpreter.

An argument then ensued regarding the admissibility of the contract as it had not been stamped, but Mr. Silva informed the Court that he had written to the Stamp Officer in Shanghai, who stated that he was quite willing to stamp the contract, provided one of the parties concerned would endorse it and provided the penalty was paid.

The case is proceeding.

RADIO SHOW AT OLYMPIA

Exhibits Valued At $6,000,000

London, To-day.

The value of the exhibits at the Radio Show, which opens at Olympia next Wednesday, is estimated at $6,000,000. Nearly 150 manufacturers are showing sets and components on five miles of stands. The exhibition, the principal features of which promise to be "all-wave" receivers and television sets, will remain open till September 15. — British Wireless Service.

This vigorous action, which is in conformity with the support which the Government has consistently given to the principle of non-intervention, has been taken in advance of the general agreement on the French proposals, and may be regarded both as a further indication of the serious apprehensions held in London of the dangers of delay in bringing into operation the essentials of non-intervention and as showing a hopeful view of the prospects of an early agreement among all the interested Powers.

The return of Signor Mussolini to Rome on Tuesday night has increased the optimism, and British official circles look for an encouraging reply before long from the Italian Government regarding the French plan, to which the German adherence, with two conditional reserves, was announced on Tuesday.

BOARD OF TRADE ORDER

The Board of Trade have, with effect from yesterday, revoked, so far as it concerns destinations in Spain, the Spanish possessions and the Spanish zone of Morocco, all licences which they have granted for the export of all descriptions of arms, ammunition, aircraft, etc., specified in the Arms Export Prohibition Order, 1931, including three open general export licences issued on June 1, 1931. This revocation which amounts to a general and complete prohibition of the export of arms, ammunition and aircraft to Spain, is made by an order, attached to which is a detailed list of 20 classes of arms and munitions to which it applies. The final class is "aircraft, assembled or dismantled, and aircraft engines." Included in this, therefore, are both military and civil aeroplanes whether exported in ships or under their own power.

British Evacuation Of Refugees

Speaking at Guxton in Norfolk yesterday afternoon the First Lord of the Admiralty, Sir Samuel Hoare, described some aspects of work of evacuation carried out by British ships from the disturbed areas in Spain. As soon as the first news of the Spanish rebellion was received it became clear that the situation of a great number of British subjects might at any moment become precarious. Immediately measures were taken to furnish opportunities for evacuation and to provide the British Consular officers at Spanish ports with means of communication.

Sir Samuel Hoare explained that the waters of the coast of Spain were roughly mapped out into areas and were put under the direction of various naval authorities, and measures were taken to co-ordinate the activities of all kinds.

In a remarkably short time the organisation was in full swing. His Majesty's Ships maintained by wireless a full system of communication between the Foreign Office, and the Consular authorities and British and foreign citizens were evacuated by destroyers and cruisers to Marseilles, Bayonne, St. Jean de Luz, Oporto and Gibraltar. No distinction, Sir Samuel added, had been made between British and Foreign nationals, and so far about 3,500 men, women and children had been evacuated, of whom about 2,000 were British.—British Wireless Service.

INURED SEAMAN

An injured seaman, John Eooman, of Southampton, was taken off the oil tanker Cadillac at Wick North Scotland, last month by a pilot boat after an SOS had been sent for a doctor to meet the ship.Dr. Sven Hedin, the famous Swedish explorer, being greeted by Reichsführer Adolf Hitler at the Berlin Games.DISAPPOINTING FINAL

Randle Spoils A Four

The Portuguese pair had particularly bad luck on the 9th end, when they were lying four shots, for with his third wood Randle removed two of the markers to concede only a couple. The 13th head again saw the Revere players lying a couple, but Randle was again prominent when he drove and stole the shot and then consolidated the position by drawing his next wood to take second place.
If Dame Fortune favoured one pair more than the other, then it must be agreed that it was the K.B.G.C. couple, though on the run of play they deserved to win.
It was not, however, what might be described as a glorious Final, but the 21 heads had their bright spots, and, incidentally, an amusing one when Silva sent down his last wood, on the 10th end, with the wrong bias and someone called out "drinks all round!"WHAT IS THE ARMY COMING TO?

Permanent Waves For Soldiers

Aldershot—Soldiers at Aldershot are getting the permanent wave habit.
The proprietors of a hairdressing establishment in the town said recently that scores of soldiers have had permanent waves.
"Men from Scottish regiments are our best customers," it was stated.
An Army officer said that the explanation was vanity. The soldiers wanted to look smart during their social activities.

Yau, Wong Siu Ling, Mrs. A. N.
Macfadyen, Mrs. B. Smith-Wright and others.There are 150 entries in oils, watercolours, pastels, drawings &c., of which Mr. Luis Chan's are the most predominant, totallingSKYLARKING FOR A LIVING

Joan numbers these days as the happiest in her life. Rising at dawn, they would be out half an hour later, launching the gliders if the weather permitted, or learning the intricacies of air currents whilst waiting for clouds to come their way.Then came the day for her to try a loop. She admits that the thought rather terrified her, though she had longed to be allowed to try one. She was towed to a height of 2,000 feet, at which altitude she let the cable fall. "I was alone and free," she said. "I watched the aeroplane disappear with my cable hanging on its tail.
I dived my machine until the speed showed over 70, pulled the stick gently back, then, when we were nearly upside down, hard back, and we went softly over like a bird. It was such fun! I did two more loops, and then came down and landed."After that Miss Meakin had no more fear of looping in a glider than the average man has of turning a somersault in his bedroom.She was an aerobatic glider pilot, the only British girl to hold such a qualification, and it is small wonder that, on returning to England, she found no difficulty in taking up gliding as a career.Since that time thousands have seen this daring young English girl performing feats undreamt of a few years ago, and she has acquired a reputation second to none among the women gliding champions of the world. And yet she is still unsophisticated Joan Meakin, or rather Joan Price. She still says, "No thank you, I don't smoke. Did you enjoy that loop? Yes, wasn't it fun?"

Ladies Of Air Circus

Now let us meet Miss Pauline Gower and Miss Dorothy Spicer, two other intrepid British airwomen, who are at the moment travelling Great Britain with a well-known air circus.Pauline Gower started her flying career several years ago, when she was still legally an infant. Her father, Sir Robert Gower, M.P., would not pay for his daughter to risk her neck at so dangerous a sport, so she spent her dress allowance on flying tuition. This was sufficient for her "A" licence, but she had set her heart on a "B," so she mortgaged the £100 she knew was coming to her on her twenty-first birthday.She embarked upon an engineer's course at Stag-lane, and it was here that she met Dorothy Spicer, another enthusiastic woman. They at once became inseparable flying companions, and set to work on a partnership scheme. Pauline was to continue her pilot's training and Dorothy would qualify as a ground engineer.
They would then set forth together as a business concern, sole partners of the first air-taxi service of its kind in the country.Pauline's "twenty-first" arrived soon after this decision, and her father, now more afraid she would kill herself without an aeroplane of her own than with one (she had told him hair-raising tales of the "old crows" she had been "forced" to take up because she was without her own plane), presented her with a two-seater.

Precarious Work

The first summer at air-taxi work and giving joy-rides was very precarious. They hired a field and lived in a hut on it to save expenses. But the field was off the main road, and nobody seemed anxious to risk his neck with a girl pilot. Local youths collected in the field to gape at the "bus," the two girls and their dog Wendy, but when asked if they wanted to go up, exclaimed, "No perishin' fear." Why, even the blinkin' dawg's called "Windy."But giving joy-rides has its thrills, as Pauline Gower can tell you."I was taking up a party of gipsies one evening. They had just obtained a lot of money from somewhere and most of them were tight. One brave youth, wanting to display his prowess to those below, attempted to climb out on to the wing. But a rap on the knuckles with a large spanner cooled his ardour."The taxi service also provided its share of amusement.
One night two men arrived, wanting to be conveyed across the Channel in great haste.
They had a dear relative dying in France and must see her before the end came. Petrol was run into the tanks, the engines warmed up, and everything was ready when two other men appeared. There was a hasty consultation, explanations and some swearing. Finally two clients made their exit in the care of two Scotland Yard detectives.

Flour-Bag Bombs

It is no use just sitting in a field and waiting for passengers to come, as Pauline and Dorothy soon discovered.
Shortly after their first venture, they rented a field outside Hunstanton, again living gipsy-fashion beside their plane. To advertise their show they arranged with the proprietor of a speed-boat that their passengers should be allowed to bomb his craft with flour bags.Pauline Gower and her partner have also had their share of circus fun. One afternoon Pauline was leading a formation flight, with thousands of spectators beneath her, and a young girl passenger in the cockpit in front.Suddenly the girl turned round and began making faces at her pilot. Then she waved her scarf in the air, completely obliterating Pauline's vision."TOUCHING TOES" AT AGE 76Although She Had Stiff Joints When She Was 65Can you touch your toes without bending your knees? Will you be able to do it when you're 76? There is no reason why you should not, if you follow this woman's method of keeping fit. She writes:—
"When I was 65 my wrists and ankles began to swell. I was unable to turn my head round. As I did not care to qualify for the chimney corner, I decided to try Kruschen Salts. I have taken it regularly for ten years, and I have good health. I walk two miles or more each day, and can easily touch my toes without bending my knees—which I think good considering I shall be 76 in two months' time. Only to-day I was asked how I managed to keep looking so well. I replied, 'I am a Kruschenist.'—(Mrs.) E. M. P.
There is one sure, safe way to keep yourself regular inside—the "little daily dose" of Kruschen Salts.
Kruschen is a scientific combination of six mineral salts which keep your eliminating organs in proper time, and so clear away the waste matter that clogs your system and poisons the blood."And, finally, anticipating the signs her pilot was giving to the other machines in the formation, began to mimic them.Pauline tried to wrest the scarf from her, but unsuccessfully.
Then she tried using a spanner, but that too had no effect. So she gave the order to break formation and started to teach the young fool a lesson. She let the plane stall, go into a spin, loop the loop several times, and swoop earthwards in a nose-dive. And then, but not till then, did she bring her passenger down to terra firma.

Did The Trick

"It did the trick," said Pauline. That young minx's face was quite green as she climbed shakily out of the cockpit.
And she left me without saying a word."This summer Pauline Gower and Dorothy Spicer are clowns again. Pauline gives joy-rides and flying displays, while Dorothy travels with her, this time in the responsible position of chief ground engineer to the entire circus.The latest addition to aerobatics is young Mrs. Winifred Crossley, and there is no doubt that she has a great career ahead of her. Mrs. Crossley learned to fly only two years ago, after watching an air display.
She quickly mastered straightforward flying and, long before an Air Force pilot would be allowed to attempt his first loop, was doing anything she liked with her aeroplane.It was she, as much as her doctor father, who helped to see the St. Neot's "quads" through the first precarious weeks of their existence. She turned milkman, and daily flew supplies of milk to the babies.Now she leads an equally exciting life as sole, woman aerobatic pilot in a travelling circus. She loops, spins, flies upside down; she does everything, in fact, that the men pilots do. She is, in fact, a sure proof of sex equality in the air!

NEW YORK SHARE
MARKETIncreased Activity
ExpectedDISAPPOINTING VOLUME OF BUSINESS

Messrs. White, Weld and Company, New York Correspondents for Messrs. S. E. Levy and Company, Report:—

Stocks: The action of the market was encouraging, although the volume of business was disappointing. We expect increased activity in the near future. On further strength, we would take trading profits in railroad and rail-equipment stocks since the excellent July earnings are now out and the problem of finding a substitute for the freight sur-charges, which terminate in December, is being given increasing publicity. We think we would switch into sugar shares.

We would also take profits in copper issues with the idea of re-purchasing such shares later. Business done: 1,010,000 shares.

Cotton: The weekly Government weather report indicates favourable conditions in the East, but unfavourable in the West. The fear of a change in the weather and hedge pressure are restraining buyers. Should the market decline further without any decided improvement in the recent unfavourable weather conditions, we think that purchases are again advisable. as the Government crop report in September is likely to reflect serious deterioration. A private forecast indicates an improvement in the weather to-day and on Thursday.

The publication Standard Statistics reports:

Wheat: The United States is competing with Europe for the limited Canadian supply and prices are expected to work higher. We would advise a long-position.

Corn: The recent scattered rains are insufficient to arrest crop deterioration. Advances from the current levels are likely, but will be more difficult to maintain. We would protect long commitments adequately.

Rubber: Production is held well within the allowances by the Regulation Committee. The domestic labour and foreign exchange outlook, however, suggest the sidelines.

Flash: Average crude oil production for the past week is estimated at 3,070,000 barrels as compared with 2,964,000 barrels the previous week.

The Edison Electric Institute estimates electricity production at 2,094,000,000 k.w.h., an increase of 14.3 per cent over the corresponding period of last year.

BRITISH TRADE
FIGURESContinued Expansion Shown

ENCOURAGING REPORTS

London, To-day.

The Board of Trade index of industrial production gives evidence of the continued expansion of British trade. The industrial activity in the United Kingdom is estimated to have been 0.5 per cent greater in the second quarter of 1936 than in the previous quarter, and 10.9 per cent greater than in the second quarter of 1935. The indices, both for manufacturing industries and for all the groups, represented the greatest volume of production in any quarter so far recorded, although normally there is less activity in the second than in the first quarter of the year.

Empire Trade

The re-distribution of British overseas trade in favour of Empire countries continues. Imports into Great Britain from British countries during the first half of 1936 amounted in value to 41.53 per cent of the total value of all imports, as compared with 40.08 per cent in the first six months of last year and 31.36 per cent in the corresponding period of 1934.

Exports of British produce to British countries accounted for 48.64 per cent of the total value of exports, as against 46.43 per cent and 40.71 per cent respectively in the two previous years named.—

POLICE METHODS
CRITICISEDLAMMA ISLAND
MURDER ECHOVERDICT OF MURDER AT INQUEST

A verdict of murder by a person or persons unknown was returned by the jury sitting at the inquest held by Mr. Kennedy Skipton, District Officer, South, yesterday, into the circumstances surrounding the death of Chan Kee, 37 year-old native of Lamma Island.

It was stated that because he walked in his wet clothes over some fish that were laid out to dry, boat people from Aberdeen savagely attacked and killed the deceased.

The jury added the following rider: Assuming that the evidence of Cheung Yung-sau and Ng Chau as to the method adopted by the Police to intercept the two boats is correct, we wish to draw attention to the failure and lack of initiative on the part of the Stanley Police in using this method.

The rider arose from testimony that, when villagers informed the Stanley Police of the crime and led them to the shore opposite the anchorage of the suspected boat people, the Police called out to the suspects from the shore to report at the Police Station. The boat people immediately hoisted sail and have not been seen since.

At the opening of the inquest on Tuesday the following jury was empanelled: Messrs. A. A. Dand (Foreman), R. D. Knip, and H. A.
Barrow.

Sub-Inspector J. O'Donovan appeared for the Police.

TENSE SITUATION IN MADRID

Fervent preparations for the defence of the city are being made. Measures have been taken for dynamiting the principal roads leading on Madrid. The Trade Unions have announced that if Madrid is taken, the conquerors will find only corpses. Members of the Government have been threatened that if they attempt to leave the city by plane they will be shot down.

Lisbon: Radio reports broadcast here from the Nationalists state that the advance in the north of Spain is proceeding with mathematical precision.

The Madrid station announces that altogether 11 Nationalist Generals have been killed, while 18 others are in prison.

"ANOTHER NATION"
The Seville sender broadcast an announcement by General Delaio, who states that "another nation" after having delivered bombs to the Spanish Government, now fights the Nationalists in another way, by cutting the cables to the Canary Islands, which are in hands of the insurgents. This "other nation" in Geneva declared that it had decided to cease all communication with cities in hands of the insurgents.

VOLUNTARY ARMY
Madrid: The plan of the Madrid Government to form a voluntary army from the Workers' Militia was entrusted for execution to the President of the Cortes, Senor Martinez Barrio, the Minister of Economics, Senor Fumaz, and General Monge. The organisation will embrace the whole nation.
After a Cabinet meeting, the Premier, Senor Giral, declared to the press that the Spanish Consul in Bremen, Senor Miguel Aldasore, and the Secretary of the Embassy in Berlin had been discharged from the diplomatic service. The President of the Supreme Court, the Attorney General, three Presidents of the Chamber and 10 judges have also been dismissed.

ITALIAN DECISION
Paris: Count Ciano, the Italian Foreign Minister, yesterday handed the French Ambassador a verbal note stating that the Italian Government, in principle, accepts the French plan of neutrality.

CATALAN GOVT. DECREE
Barcelona: A decree of the utmost importance was issued yesterday by the Catalan Government, calculated to place the whole economic system on a new footing.
The most important provision of this decree is that a foreign trade monopoly is established, in order to shield the new economic system against any detrimental influence from extraneous sources.

A further far-reaching innovation is the enactment that large agricultural estates will be collectivised and operated by the Agricultural Workers' Union with the support of the Government. Small and medium-sized estates will be compulsorily united into corporate associations.

GERMAN INDIGNATION
Berlin: Indignation is expressed in the German press at the news that the German ship Kamerun was held up and searched by Spanish warships, the papers pointing out that the boat was outside the three-mile limit and therefore not in Spanish territorial waters, so that the searching of the ship constitutes a breach of international agreements.

The Kamerun next called at Genoa, but was heading for Cadiz on instructions received by the captain to pick up refugees there. When the steamer was about 7½ miles from the coast, it was signalled to stand by the cruiser Libertad and the submarine

Professor Dr. Max Planck, President of the Kaiser Wilhelm Association, above, was honoured by London University on the occasion of its centenary with the degree of doctor honoris causa.

B6, which enforced the demand by firing three shots across her bows. A search party then boarded the ship and made a thorough examination of the cargo.

The ship was then permitted to continue, but was warned not to proceed towards Cadiz, but to set its course towards the Mediterranean.—Trans-Ocean Service.

Sharp Press Comment BREACH OF INTERNATIONAL LAW DISCLOSED

Berlin: In yesterday's edition the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger devotes a long leader to the action of the Spanish cruiser Libertad in stopping and searching a German ship from looking after German nationals. Termining this action a flagrant breach of international law, the paper points out that no warship has the right to hold up any vessel outside territorial waters.

"A breach of international law of this nature," so the paper says, "can, under certain conditions and at certain times have very serious consequences. In the present case 'Bolshevik freebooters' dared to stop a German ship from looking after German nationals, who, as many instances have proved, had to fear for life and property. In several cases German warships, salvaging German nationals, were only able to do so under the threat of force."

WARNING TO FREEBOOTERS
"If Bolshevik freebooters on Bolshevized Spanish warships and submarines again attempt to turn the German merchantmen from their course, serious international questions will arise."

"It is to be expected that the necessary influence over the Bolshevik troops and sailors, will speedily take steps to prevent any further outrage against German ships and subjects."

The paper then goes on to deal with the moral support given to the Spanish Government by the Soviet Union, and states that Germany holds in principle to the idea of non-intervention, as clearly expressed in the last German note to France. The paper concludes however: "Germany definitely expects the Soviet Union to abandon the methods hitherto adopted, otherwise all the negotiations now going on in London are in vain."

WARNING TO SHIPPING
Berlin: All ships on the high seas have been warned, in a message repeated often and in many

SCIENCE AND SOCIETY

British Association Meeting

SIR J. STAMP TO DELIVER PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

London, To-day.
Sir Josiah Stamp, the eminent statistician, former Treasury official and Chairman of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway, will deliver the Presidential address — "The Impact of Science on Society" — at the 166th meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, which opens at Blackpool on September 9. An attendance of about 2,000, many from overseas, is expected. The 13 sections have heavy programmes of papers and discussions over the whole field of science, but in keeping with the general scheme for the present meeting, the subjects for the most part will be brought into close relation with practical problems of modern life.—British Wireless Service.

ALLEGED THEFT FROM FRIEND

Married Woman Charged

Ho Lui, a married woman, was this morning charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy with the theft of a gold watch and chain, three gold appendages and $5, to the total value of $155.

Detective - Sergeant Dawman said that the defendant was related to Tang Yee Koo, the complainant, and two months ago went to live with the complainant at No. 16 Landale Street. On August 13, the complainant found her jewellery missing. The defendant had absconded, leaving her four-year-old girl behind. On Tuesday she was seen on a tramcar by the complainant, who caused her arrest. On her person were found $15.20 in Canton currency, $9.55 in Hong Kong money and three gold rings and a metal watch she had purchased for $51.50, the proceeds of the sale of the gold watch and chain.

The defendant was remanded for 24 hours to raise $100 to make amends to the complainant.

AUTONOMY MOVE IN KWANGSI

General Li Chung-jen and Pai Hsueh-shi, heads of the Kwangsi Government, are now admitting non-Kuomintang politicians to their cause. High officers of the 19th Route Army renounced their memberships in the Kuomintang when they joined the so-called People's Revolutionary Government in Fochow in November, 1933.

General Chen Ming-shu may shortly proceed to Kwangsi if their new venture gives sign of success. He is now conducting propaganda for Kwangsi with the help of Messrs. Huang Li-shih and Hu Tsui-yuan, well known Social Democrats and political writers.

Kwangsi reports state that northern military leaders such as Generals Yen Hsi-shan, Sung Chieh-yuan and Han Fu-chu are not in favour of using Nanking forces to invade Kwangsi. The authenticity of such reports is not, however, confirmed.
